LexVid Services, Inc., Presents:

Threats to Privacy Rights: The Chilling Effects of Online Surveillance

Total: 53 Minutes

Speakers:
Larry Walters

Description/Table of Contents

Recent revelations made by Edward Snowden revealed that the American Government was collecting mass amounts of data on its citizens without warrant or any specific suspicion of criminal activity. Many scholars believe that this is an abuse of rights granted by the constitution, while the debate continues on whether Snowden engaged in criminal activity or was simply a "Whistleblower" under federal law. Join First Amendment lawyer Larry Walters as he explores this controversial topic. Among other subjects, Mr. Walters will cover the NSA's relevant policies and activities, the many chilling effects thought to result from such activities, and the legislation proposals meant to limit the NSA.

I. Overview (3 minutes)
II. The NSA (4 minutes)
III. Mass Data Collection (4 minutes)
IV. Constitutional Issues (5 minutes)
V. Legal Analysis of Snowden Case (4 minutes)
VI. The NSA's Policy on Social Media (3 minutes)
VII. The NSA ANT Catalog (4 minutes)
VIII. More Government Monitoring (3 minutes)
IX. What is Done With Collected Data (4 minutes)
X. More Abuses of Power (4 minutes)
XI. Parallel Construction (3 minutes)
XII. Opposition to Domestic Surveillance (4 minutes)
XIII. The Chilling Effect (5 minutes)
XIV. Conclusions (3 minutes)

Total: 53 minutes

©LexVid, Inc. All Rights Reserved